Was the Sabbath created for frantic souls who need a weekly reminder that the world will not stop if they do?

In one of the most dramatic examples of waiting in the Bible, Daniel prays for people who had been oppressed for seventy years. He abstained from food and drink for twenty-one days, as he labored in prayer, persisted, pleaded, and agonized. No response. On the twenty-second day an angel of God appeared. He revealed to Daniel that his prayer had been heard on the first day.

From an earthly perspective, nothing was happening. But from a heavenly perspective a battle was raging in the heavens. God was working! What if Daniel had given up...lost faith...or walked away from God? Consider these better questions: What if you give up? Lose faith? Walk away? Don't! God is at work. Keep waiting!
